Windham, Feb. 10th, 1917.

SCHOOL REPORT

To the Citizens of Windham:

The following annual report of the public schools of Windham is hereby respectfully submitted for your consideration:

TEACHERS

There were few changes made among our teachers this year. Miss Alice Hatch was changed from the Windham Hill school to the intermediate grade at the John Andrews School. Miss Abbie Cartland from the Friends School to the Windham Center School. Miss Beulah Gilman of So. Portland was hired to teach the Bodge School. Miss Melba Ramsdell the Newhall School and Dorris Manchester the Windham Hill School. This completed the list of teachers with the exception of the High School, the vacant position being filled by Miss Carrie Freese of Bar Mills, who taught for the last two years at Pennell Institute.

We were unfortunate in losing three of our teachers during the school year—Miss Jenkins of the Friends School, Miss Holt and Miss Soule of the High School. Although it is especially hard to get suitable teachers during the school year without offering some special advantages, we were fortunate in securing Miss Ethel Piper of Biddeford for the Friends School, Miss Adelaide Merriman of Westbrook and Mr. J. H. Sullivan of Bates College for the High School. These new teachers in so far as we have been able to determine, are doing very good work. The teachers throughout the town are working industriously for the good of the schools.

We have planned to have the teachers meet at least twice a term to discuss points of interest, to talk over the different questions and problems with which the teacher is often confronted and receive instruction in some particular line of school development.

We were fortunate in being able to have Miss Higgins of the N. E. Teachers' Agency with us at one meeting. Miss Higgins talked on What a teacher ought to be from the Agency's point of view. Miss Florence Hale of Augusta will be present March 16th and the teachers will surely be inspired by Miss Hale's talk.

STUDENTS

I have been well impressed with the general behavior of the boys and girls of our schools. They have been taught to be courteous and polite to visitors and industrious and faithful to their studies. I have found many of the grade students deficient in arithmetic, which I think we can overcome in due time with your help and co-operation. I also find that many of the students of the upper grades are poor readers and writers. These I feel can also be improved materially with due consideration. In several of the schools I find a marked desire among the upper grades to attend High School, while in other schools there seems to be little incentive for higher education which is probably due to outside influences. It seems to me that every boy and girl in order to take their place in the life work of today, should have at least a High School education.

TEXT BOOKS

We have some very good text books in use in our common schools such as Progressive Roads to Reading, S. & M. Spellers, Montgomery's Histories, Palmer Method Penmanship. We should have more new industrial, historical and nature readers for supplementary reading, and I hope to introduce a new arithmetic in a few of the schools.

Our High School has demanded much of our text book money this year, due to the large entering class. This class will require more text books than we have available. Then too many of the texts we are using at present are not fit for students to use because of their poor condition. These facts being considered, I urge that more money be raised for text books, for it is by the use of these implements together with good teachers that our efficiency in education is increased.

In the 1901 school report, I noticed that the town raised $500 for text books with less than 300 pupils in the schools. Now with the price of books increased and over 400 pupils we surely should have that amount at least.

SUPPLIES

Although the price of paper has increased over 100 per cent. and many other supplies in proportion, I think that we can get along nicely with no further advance in appropriation. I have urged the teachers to be careful that the students do not waste the paper and pencils, and that they have only what are needed. I have asked each teacher to keep a strict account of all supplies used in each school, that we may make comparisons to see where supplies are wasted and also the cost per student.

REPAIRS

The schoolhouses are, generally speaking, in fair condition though some are in rather poor condition. The Bodge, Plains, Knight, John Andrew's, Kennard, Friends and Hill Schools are in good repair with the exception of the foundation of the Friends School and the chimney of the Kennard, which must be repaired before another year. The foundation of the Newhall schoolhouse; the inside of the Anderson schoolhouse and the shed and entry of the Arlington School should be repaired. The White and Ireland schoolhouses are in poor condition. The out houses to most of the schools are not what they should be and several of the schools have no wood houses. It seems rather a waste of money to spend so much for repairs on so many buildings each year and then have them only in passible condition. If there were only some way to decrease the number of buildings and put those remaining in proper condition, a part of our troubles would be eliminated.

HIGH SCHOOL

Although I am leaving the High School report to be covered by Principal McFarlane, it seems necessary for me to speak of a few things which may not be included in his report. I have already mentioned in the special report the crowded condition of our High School with suggestions from the Special Committee for the remedy. The committee understand those matters and can explain them to you with more satisfaction than I could write them here.

In reply to my report to the State Superintendent on our High School library, Mr. Taylor states that it is imperative that we increase our list of reference books and wishes us to urge an appropriation for that purpose. Many of you already realize how important it is to have sources of reference to consult in nearly every study in our daily recitations. In debating a reference library is absolutely necessary. We need $150 worth of books for our library at once and should have $50 each year for that purpose. Realizing that we are asking for considerable more money this year than last year in various ways, we decided that this money could be raised with the text book money, and that what we did not need for text books could be used for reference books for our library. I therefore urge you to do all you can for this purpose.

In regard to our High School teachers, I feel that we have much better than the average schools, although we are paying less than the average wage for lady teachers. I think the wages of our lady teachers must be increased to the average wage if we can hope to retain good teachers any length of time.

GENERAL

We have some 514 seats in the common schools to be occupied by 340 pupils, leaving 174 vacant seats or the average of 10 seats in each school. Only five of the sixteen schools have modern single desks; the others have the old double desks, many of which are so cut and rough that it is nearly impossible to write upon them. Only 9 of our 16 schools have any kind of a library and these 9 average only 34 books. Each school should have a library of at least 100 volumes and a suitable place to keep them.

I notice in the 1909 report that Windham appropriated $3,000 for common schools with only 300 pupils. In 1901, sixteen years ago $3,000 was appropriated with 290 pupils and $500 for text books. I think we are not asking too much of the people if we request them to appropriate the same amount for these purposes this year.

We recommend the following appropriations:

Common School Account,	$3,000
Common School Fuel,	450
Common School Janitors,	425
High School Account,	1,800
High School Fuel,	150
High School Janitor,	250
High School Transportation,	600
Text Books,	500
Supplies,	450
Repairs and cleaning,	300

SPECIAL REPORT

The Special Committee chosen by the town to confer with the Superintending School Committee on improvements in school affairs met at the High School building Jan. 30th to consider the undesirable conditions that exist relative to recitation rooms; lack of water; and lack of proper conditions for the science and home economics departments.

The committee decided that the increased student body necessitated larger divisions in recitations and that the present recitation rooms would no longer meet the demands without the use of the hall. This of course would require that the room be heated. The present heater is not designed to heat both hall and school rooms at the same time. They found that the home economic students were so closely packed in their cooking and sewing classes that it is impossible to accomplish satisfactory results. That the Chemical and Physical laboratories are of insufficient size and so poorly equipped that it is impossible to give suitable preparation in these courses. That the lack of water in the building is a drawback to all science courses.

The Special Committee therefore recommend:

1. That additional heat be installed and such other changes be made as seem necessary.
2. That the Home Economics and Science laboratories be enlarged and improved.
3. That water be put into the building.

REPORT OF PRINCIPAL OF THE HIGH SCHOOL

To F. E. Fortier, Superintendent of Schools, Windham, Maine.

GREETING:

I herewith submit the following report for 1916-17:

The enrollment of eighty-eight scholars last September, showed an appreciable increase over past years. Thirty-eight freshmen entered and most of that number are doing excellent work at the present time. Three have discontinued their studies. Forty-five per cent of Windham scholars live outside the 2½ mile limit. Tuition pupils from Raymond, Casco, North Gorham and Standish are still in attendance with an increase of three.

The average attendance has ranked high. We are continually discouraging tardiness. Considering the traveling and distance, the scholars do quite well.

Our new program of studies outlined by you last September is meeting the demands and approval of many. A glance at the list of subjects offered show that the policy of educational thought has changed to meet social and economic conditions.

We are teaching all the subjects necessary for any high school, enjoying, as we are, New England college entrance privileges.

Our school is on the accredited list and we may certify those who are up to the standard.

The teachers are greatly interested in their work. Miss Freese has encouraged the reading of "Current Events" in connection with the history courses. The students must have more general information concerning their own country and nation's affairs.

Miss Merriman has already made the Domestic Science course the strongest since its adoption.

Mr. Sullivan is placing much stress on theme work in the English courses. The dissection method of teaching English is receiving severe criticism from modern educators.

The ordinary man in the busy hum of life has little use for Iambic Pentameter, etc. He must have a store of practical English at his command.

Our "Windham" school paper is in the hands of the printer and will soon be ready for distribution.

Athletics are condemned by the few who do not understand, but the overwhelming majority are pleased to note the benefit derived from a reasonable amount of participation in sports. What a great help to the boys. It encourages and develops:

1. Self control.
2. Clean living.
3. Quick thinking.
4. Fair play.

Portland, Casco, Standish, Normal, Greeley and Potter Academy, etc., have had pleasant relations with us in athletics.

We are desirous of making high standards along all kinds of work. We want the best for Windham and we are going to have it as much as lies in our power.

Mr. Fortier: Recently, those interested in our High School have noticed among the students that:

1. More are contemplating a college course.
2. More are concerned about future success.
3. Honor, courtesy, self-reliance and perseverance are playing an important part in their lives.
4. Those who were failures as under-classmen are rated high in several courses.

Your timely suggestions since September have aided us greatly. The faculty desire a fine atmosphere in the school and we believe that the parents can assist us greatly by making the home as beautiful and pure as possible. Frequently we are able to read the home environment and training in the face of the pupil.

I was informed the other day that our boys are doffing their hats, saluting their elders with respect and addressing citizens properly. I hope that is true; if it is, we are hopeful of greater things. We know they conduct themselves quite well at school.

I hope the parents and guardians will visit the school, where they may get a clearer vision of affairs.

I believe good, clean, optimistic people of Windham are supporting us and great success is inevitable before June.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE E. MACFARLANE, Principal.

REPORT OF THE DOMESTIC SCIENCE TEACHER

---

Windham, Me., Feb. 6, 1916.

To F. E. Fortier, Superintendent of Schools, Windham, Maine.

When I came to Windham High School in November, I found a well organized course in Domestic Science and have made but few changes in it. These were changes that, to my mind, would render the work more practical for I realize that unless the course is made thoroughly so it is not gaining the end for which it was instituted.

The course provides work in sewing for the first and second year girls, each class having five periods weekly.

The outline for the first year sewing includes the teaching of the elementary stitches or practical problems, beginning with the making of the apron, cap, cuffs, holder and side towel that make up the cooking uniform and working up to the making of simple underwear. The making of patches and darns is also taken up and some simple embroidery woven in in the hemstitching and embroidering of a guest towel.

The second year takes up the work where it was left in the first and the making of outside garments is introduced along with the use of the commercial pattern. Toward the end of the year instruction is given in fancy work, such as tatting and crocheting, and this is all applied on some practical problem.

Along with the sewing of the second year the study of textiles is pursued with the aim of acquainting the girls with the various fibres and their manufacture into cloth, so that they may be more efficient and discriminating shoppers.

Some very good work has already been done by the classes in their sewing and we are planning to have a public exhibition of the articles later in the year.

The course in cooking is open to the Junior and Senior girls. The outline for the work is grouped around a meal as the center and all instruction and practical work is given with the end in view of teaching the girls to be able to plan and prepare simple, nutritious and well-balanced meals. To complete this instruction, the actual preparing and serving of several meals will be required.

Two periods each week are given to practical cooking and we are using an extra one each week to take up more fully the study of foods and food values, the cost and planning of meals, sanitation, household management and accounts, laundry work and marketing.

The girls are made responsible for the general appearance and neatness of the kitchen and in this way are instructed in the duties of actual housekeeping.

We appreciate the fact that we have a well-equipped kitchen, but the need for more room is imperative. The kitchen has to be used as a sewing room and class room besides for the cooking and so cannot be kept as we would like to keep it because of the coming and going of other classes. Too, the actual work in sewing and cooking is hindered by the cramped space in which it has to be performed. With a class of fifteen girls besides as many chairs, large cooking table, range, closets, sink and machine in the small kitchen, inspection of individual sewing is well-nigh impossible. Imagine, too, if you can, eleven girls around one ordinary sized stove all wanting to stir their gravy at once and you will understand the immediate need that we have of more room.

The girls are much interested in the work and we surely do not want to limit the efficiency of the department by allowing it to be cramped for proper working space.

Respectfully submitted,

C. ADELAIDE MERRIMAN.

To the Citizens of Windham:

The following annual report of the public schools of Windham is respectfully submitted for your consideration:

TEACHERS

We have several new teachers this year. In the High School we were obliged to get all new teachers. We were very fortunate however in being able to secure the services of Clarence Proctor as our principal. Mr. Proctor was formerly principal of Belfast High School for several years. His experience and educational advantages are surpassed by few teachers in the state. Mr. Proctor has charge of Mathematics and Science. Our Domestic Science teacher, Miss Herberta Penley, came to us from Cornish High School where she has successfully taught for three years. Miss Clark, a graduate of Bates College has charge of English and Latin. Miss Sara Chandler also a graduate of Bates College has charge of the History and French courses.

Our largest school in town is the John Andrews. There we have two new teachers. Miss Emma Johnson of Auburn is Principal of the Grammar room. Miss Henrikson, who taught the Kennard School last year, teaches the intermediate grades; while Miss Sweetser remains in her same position in the primary room. Realizing that this school of 97 pupils is a difficult school to handle, I think the teachers, especially, deserve considerable credit for their untiring efforts and constant patience. Very little complaint has come from this school so far this year.

Miss Marjory Cole of Raymond a graduate of Greely

Institute last Spring, later taking a Summer School course for teachers at Presque Isle, was engaged to teach the School at Windham Hill. She did very creditable work there during the Fall term, but owing to the fact that the school became so small, only six pupils, it was discontinued and Miss Cole was placed in the Bodge school from which Miss Gilman had previously resigned.

Miss Lucy Whittier of Gorham is teaching the Knight school, while Miss Lizzie Knight was placed in the Ireland school.

Miss Emma Allen has been teaching the Kennard school, but at present owing to the illness of her mother, she has a competent substitute, Mrs. Mildred Varney, who will teach the school until Miss Allen can return.

We were indeed sorry to lose one of our most faithful teachers from the Newhall school during the year but Miss Ramsdell obtained a much more desirable position and felt she could no longer remain with us under existing conditions. Miss Annie Beard of Portland was engaged to finish the year. Miss Beard is exceptionally well educated and has many years of experience in all grades. We can not reasonably expect to retain her services another year.

Miss Edna Ricker of Chebeague Island is teaching the Plains School and Miss Gladys Burns of Gray the Friends school.

The other schools were all fortunate in retaining the same teachers of last year.

Mr. Nolan, a professional penman from the A. N. Palmer Company, gave a demonstration to both Windham and Raymond teachers of the methods used in teaching correctly the Palmer Penmanship. The teachers received a great deal of value from this meeting as I have noticed in their teaching since that time.

We have been trying for some time to have State Supt. A. O. Thomas and Miss Florence Hale for a two days lecture course, one day in Windham and one in Raymond, but so far they have been unable to arrange a date. We plan to have two or three more meetings of special value for the teachers during the school year.

STUDENTS

I have noticed a general improvement in the discipline in most of our schools this year. I find in some of the schools the boys and girls show marked interest in doing something for their school.

An improvement has been made in Arithmetic, English and Reading, subjects I found to be generally neglected in Rural schools.

TEXT BOOKS

We raised more money this year with the understanding that the balance should be invested in library reference books for the High school. With this idea in view I have been very careful not to buy more new books than necessary, even taking the extra trouble to collect all books not in use in the different schools and distributing them as needed. This necessitated some waiting by the teacher but kept in constant use nearly all of our books. Each school should be supplied with what books they need without having to borrow from each other.

I have quite recently taken an inventory of all text books in our rural schools, gaining information which I understand has been much desired for several years.

SUPPLIES

The cost of supplies has increased with everything else. Considering this and the fact that we have a goodly supply on hand at present, we feel that we have done well not to overrun our appropriation more than we have. In nearly all the schools the teachers urge the pupils to be very economical in the use of all supplies.

REPAIRS

We have made quite extended repairs this year on several of our rural schoolhouses, hence the over-run in our repair account. We have shingled one side of the Knight and Bodge schoolhouses; repaired the foundation of the Friends' and Newhall buildings, re-topped the chimney of the Arlington school; put in an iron drain pipe in bottom of the chimney at the Knight school; and made numerous necessary repairs inside and out on many of the other buildings.

The schoolhouses are in much better repair than they were a year ago but still much could and should be done to place them in good condition.

The cost of our repairs is much greater than it would be could we consolidate our schools into fewer buildings.

GENERAL

We hope that the time is not far distant when the matter of consolidation of our schools will be seriously considered by the people of our town. The advantages of consolidation are many. The attendance is more regular, much more interest is taken and greater progress is made. The pupils would have access to larger libraries, have better teachers and more competition in their work and in the end be far more accomplished than would be possible in the district school.

The president of the State Board of Education in Massachusetts reports that the plan of consolidation of rural schools is no longer an experiment but is recognized in most towns as a means of raising the standard of education in rural communities. In Connecticut, consolidation as reported by the State Supt. has been most advantageous to the State.

In New Jersey the advantages enumerated in favor of consolidation are economy, better teachers and equipment, better supervision, regularity of attendance and better educational spirit.

Horace Cutler, Professor of Rural School Administration in Kansas says the small school is and always has been a poor school.

Wm. T. Harris, former U. S. Commissioner of Education says, "It is fortunate that a device which changes the ungraded school into a graded school involves a saving expense." The improvement is well worth the trial even were it to double the cost of the rural school but as will be seen by statistics it is secured with an actual saving of expenditures.

Better teachers, more sanitary buildings, less personal expense on part of the student, better classification and many lesser advantages are commending this reform to the entire country. Upon the success of this movement rests the chief hope for the improvement of the rural school.

All educated and thinking men of today realize it is for the good of all children to attend school a certain definite period of time during their growth and development, and for this reason, together with the knowledge that a few parents do not realize the need of educating their children, our state has made laws requiring all children between the ages of seven and fifteen to attend some public school during the time such school is in session. The law also states that an absence of a half day or more shall be considered a violation of this law unless the absence is necessary and excused by the school officials. This statement is added because the state realizes that in order for a child to do creditable work with his fellow students he must be a regular daily attendant.

It is impossible and very unreasonable for any parent to think that his child can do as much in three or four days as he can in five days. Then too it is very unfair and unjust to the teacher and other pupils of the school, for when a pupil has been out one day, he has not only missed that day but is unprepared for the following day, and keeps his class from progressing as they would had he been at school.

Progress should be made every day and each parent should see that their children do not miss a single day unless absolutely necessary, and in such case an excuse should be sent to the teacher from the parents.

I have had excuse cards printed for each child to have filled in by their parents and presented to the teacher. If the excuse is unsatisfactory the teacher will return a card to that effect. Please read those attendance laws on the back of the excuse cards.

I find in nearly all cases of tardiness, failure of promotion, or disobedience, the parents at home are directly or indirectly at fault. With the hearty co-operation of all the parents many if not all of the school problems would be solved.

F. E. FORTIER, Supt.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

---

To the Citizens of Windham:

The school board submit the following report:

During 1916 very few repairs were made. For this reason the minor repairs made at all schools were more extended than usual.

The "permanent" repairs included shingling at Arlington and Knight schools, replacing the piers and underpinning at Friends and Newhall and drainage for Newhall.

The sanitary and interior conditions of 70% of our school rooms is much below what it ought to be. Many of them need new floors. Seats in quite a number are of improper size, worn out or both. Painting and refinishing the walls also demand our attention.

It will be necessary to reshingle in the near future one roof at the Arlington, the J. A. Andrews and Newhall. Six of our schools badly need paint outside.

To complete a program of the above proportions would need much more money than the school board would of course advise. Conditions are given merely for your earnest consideration.

The following appropriations are recommended:

Common Schools

Teaching and transportation,	$3,000
Fuel	600
Janitor,	450
Books,	500
Supplies and appliances,	600

-----------------------	-----

High School

Teaching,	$1,800
Janitor,	250
Fuel,	200
Apparatus, supplies, etc.,	250

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE FOR SCHOOL AFFAIRS

To the Citizens of Windham:

The joint committee consisting of the Superintending School Committee and the special committee elected at the last annual meeting have held several meetings during the year at which matters affecting the welfare of the schools were discussed.

Although anxious to better the sanitary conditions at John A. Andrew school, the committee were unwilling to spend the money appropriated last spring and do, what appeared to them to be, a makeshift job. The work at that school is so interwoven with larger matters of school policy that it seemed best to postpone the work at that school until a fuller discussion might be had and a possible larger appropriation be obtained for the accomplishment of a more permanent repair work. A more complete oral report will be submitted at the annual meeting.

It is the feeling of the joint committee that the time has arrived for, at least, a full discussion by the people of the town of the question of the consolidation of the schools of the town and the establishment of a Junior High School. The plan approved by the joint committee is the, so-called, 6-3-3 plan. This means that the elementary school shall consist of six grades, a junior high school of three grades and a senior high school of three grades. This will bring together into one building all pupils above the sixth grade and below the senior high school, i.e. grades 7, 8 and 9; while the senior high school will consist of grades 10, 11 and 12. This will relieve the lower schools of the pupils in the upper grades which take a considerable part of the teacher's time and so give more time for the teaching of the pupils in the lower grades while at the same time one grade will be taken from the present high school and thus relieve the crowded condition of that building. Under these conditions the committee believe that it will also be easy to accomplish the work of the schools in twelve years and thus save one year of the pupil's time in school. The first step in this program is the establishment of the Junior High School.

The committee does not feel that the present year is a favorable one for the building of a new school building but it does feel that the matter should be agitated by discussion throughout the year in neighborhood groups and at the annual meeting to see whether some plan for the betterment of the schools may not be devised and a body of opinion be formed so that intelligent action may be taken at the earliest possible moment. This is not the place to present the arguments for or against the plan, but it is to be hoped that some of the arguments pro and con may be presented when the question of the acceptance of this report is brought up at the annual meeting.

To F. E. Fortier, Supt. of Schools:

I herewith present a report of the condition and progress of the Windham High School together with some recommendations with regard to the same.

The work of the school began in September with an entirely new corps of teachers. The Principal teaching Science and Mathematics with the Economics and Social Problems of the Senior class; Miss Clark teaching English and Latin; Miss Chandler, 1st year English, History and French; Miss Penley, Household Arts and 1st year Science. I wish at this time to express my gratification at the way in which the assistants have taken up the work of the school, at the way in which they have received any suggestions I may have had to offer and at the spirit of co-operation which they have shown.

The condition of the school is good, the pupils appear anxious to assume the responsibilities which accompany privileges and are willing to work with the teachers for the betterment of the school. We have not felt that the first year was a time to depart radically from the customs of the school although we have attempted some innovations such as one supervised study period during each week and the granting of rather more freedom to the pupils than is always customary.

The scholarship of the school does not appear to be high. The pupils appear to be afraid to express any opinions and to lack words to express ideas. The reasons for the scholarship standard are rather hard to diagnose but I feel that in many instances sufficient time for preparation is not taken, the pupils themselves as well as the parents not realizing how much time is required. In a one session school, at least two hours outside of school should be taken for preparing school work. Parents should see that this amount of time is made available to the pupil and used for that purpose.

The course of study is weak in the Junior year so that many of the pupils find it necessary to take work from some other year in order to fill out four studies. This creates difficulties in program making, besides making it hard to adjust the work of the class to the capacities of the boys and girls. I recommend that American History and Civics be placed in the Junior year as Economics and Sociology make sufficient Social Science work for the Senior class.

I believe that for most of the boys and girls a single year of mathematics is sufficient to require; for the second year I believe that Drawing or Vocal or Instrumental Music may well be substituted. It ought to be possible to give in one year all of the Algebra and Geometry that will be essential and time is too valuable to the pupils to be wasted on non-essentials.

Provision should be made for some hand-work for the boys as is now made for the girls. It is just as important for the boys to have some knowledge of the use of tools as it is for the girls to learn to sew. The education of the boys is one-sided and many boys are not interested in and cannot get the side that we are giving them.

The Science work suffers greatly from a lack of apparatus with which to work. I recommend that two hundred dollars ($200) be spent for apparatus and that a case be built in the Teachers' room for the proper care of the same.

The work of the school as a whole suffers from the lack of reference books. A special appropriation of one hundred dollars ($100) is recommended for the purchase of reference books as the different teachers find the need of them.

In this time of National stress, I trust that every influence may be brought to bear, to make the graduation exercises as simple and inexpensive as possible so that no one may feel that the school has added any extra burden to shoulders now carrying all that they can bear.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARENCE W. PROCTOR, Principal.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

Feb. 3, 1919

I hereby certify that I have examined the accounts of the Selectmen, Treasurer and Collector, of the town of Windham for the year ending Feb. 1, 1919, and find them to be correct.

I also certify that the temporary loan notes of $4,000.00, $3,000.00, $3,000.00 have been paid and the same destroyed by me in the presence of the Selectmen and Treasurer.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK H. VARNEY, Auditor.

SCHOOL REPORT

To the Superintending School Committee and the Citizens of Windham:

I herewith submit the annual report of your schools.

TEACHERS

Although it has been difficult to secure teachers this year, we have an efficient force which has worked hard for the interests of the pupils. I hope that we may be able to pay salaries large enough to retain many of them another year, as this would aid greatly in improving our schools.

BOOKS

We have adopted a new grammar for use in the ninth grade. This book gives in a logical manner the steps in technical grammar which a child should know at the end of his common school course. This work is to be supplemented by much oral and written composition and should lay a good foundation for high school English.

At the White School, Miss Nash has been trying the Beacon Method of Reading. Her class of four pupils has a better foundation in reading than I have ever seen in any other first grade. Their knowledge of phonics is better than that of many second grades. They read with good expression rather than with that school room drawl which we so often hear. The teacher is largely responsible for the success of any system of reading, but I believe that any live teacher can obtain good results with this system.

GRADING

In many cases I find a child in a grade higher than his ability warrants. Parents should realize that a pupil may be doing fair work, even obtaining good rank in a class, and yet be receiving little real benefit from his studies because he learns the words of the author without grasping the ideas. When a pupil finds himself in studies which are beyond his powers of comprehension, he often becomes discouraged and drops out of school at the first possible opportunity. Children are seldom capable of doing good first grade work before they are five years of age, and it is a matter of statistics that the child who enters at seven years of age will finish his college course at as early an age as will the average pupil who enters at five years.

ATTENDANCE

Our school work has been badly broken up by Influenza. Because of these breaks, we need to be especially careful that there are no absences except those caused by sickness.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

In the last year's report, your Joint Committee for School Affairs advocated the establishment of a Junior High School under the 6-3-3 plan which would take all pupils above the sixth grade from the elementary schools. This is an excellent plan, and the sooner it is adopted in Windham the better, as no other one thing can aid as much as this in the improvement of our schools. We are passing through a period of rapid advancement in practically all lines, and the schools of the rural sections must keep apace with the times that country boys and girls of to-day may continue to take their places among the leading citizens of our great republic.

The 6-3-3 plan which your committee recommended provides for six years in the elementary schools, three years in the Junior High School and three years in the Senior High School. The elementary school by this method would be able to give a much better foundation than it has ever been able to before as the teacher would have more time for her classes. The Junior High School would give a broad pre-vocational course which would enable the pupil to know better what he wished to take in the Senior High School. With the Junior and the Senior High Schools under one roof, the teachers would be able to specialize in their work which would make the instruction much more effective. Thus a pupil would obtain a better education in twelve years than he now can in thirteen years.

One of your committee and I recently had an interview with our State Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Thomas, and he strongly advocates the Junior High School. In places where this plan has been tried, it has been very successful.

I believe that it would be possible to work this plan out at first without making any additions to our present school buildings. Then, as the school grows, you would be better able to make suitable plans for the necessary changes.

Citizens, will you give this matter your careful consideration? Remember that the pupils will receive better training than is now possible, that they will save one year as the course takes but twelve years, and that more pupils will complete their high school course than now do as there is no decided break between the Junior and the Senior High Schools.

HIGH SCHOOL

Principal Charles P. Steward, Jr. and Miss Frances Potter have made reports of the high school work, to which I refer you.

Conditions demand that we introduce some course of practical value to our high school boys. Many of them are dropping out from time to time either because they do not care to follow any of the regular courses offered or because they wish to earn money. Some day these boys will realize their mistakes, but it may be when it is too late to remedy it.

With this in mind, your school officials met Mr. Herbert S. Hill, State Director of Agriculture, and we talked with him about a course in Agriculture for Windham High School. We found that a practical course of this kind can now be introduced into a high school at a very small expense to the town. Owing to the recent Smith-Hughes Act, high schools maintaining a certain standard of requirements may receive federal aid, which added to the amount already offered by the State and a small appropriation by the town makes a sum sufficiently large to pay the salary of a competent instructor. The boys are given an opportunity to put those things which they learn into actual practice, and from the start every boy is given a chance to earn a substantial sum of money. Can you tell me of anything which will interest a boy more than to actually work out the things about which he has been studying, especially when the result means money in his pocket? Best of all, when the boy has completed his course, he is fitted for a profitable occupation; or he may continue his work in our agricultural college.

Let us all unite in urging any boys who may have left school to return and make use of this splendid opportunity. The early spring seems the best time to start upon a course of this kind, and we will make suitable arrangements with any boy who wishes to begin the work now.

CO-OPERATION

Co-operation is one of the factors most necessary to make our schools successful. No matter how efficient the teaching force may be the best results possible may be obtained only when the parents, the children, the teachers, and the school officials all work in harmony. If there are matters which you would like to discuss with me, feel free to do so; often a good talk will adjust matters which otherwise might become injurious to the schools.

CONCLUSION

I wish to thank the members of the Superintending School Committee for their hearty support, and the teachers, the parents and the children for their co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES E. VARNEY,
Superintendent of Schols.

REPORT OF PRINCIPAL OF WINDHAM HIGH SCHOOL

To Charles E. Varney, Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit a report of the progress of Windham High School during the brief period which I have been connected with it, together with a few recommendations which seem of vital interest to the welfare of the school.

First of all, I desire to take this opportunity to express my gratification for the splendid spirit of co-operation shown by the assistants, in developing suggestions I may have had to offer.

No changes of any consequence have been made. I have preferred to follow the path of my predecessor, feeling that the first year did not warrant changes of a radical nature.

Tardiness seems to be on the increase. I feel confident that a great deal of this could be avoided on the part of many pupils, if only the parents would co-operate in getting the pupils started a bit earlier. Habitual tardiness is both bad for the student and for the school.

A special course should be offered to the boys of the school, as Domestic Science now is to the girls. I am convinced that no better time will ever exist than now to take this important step. The education of the boy is one-sided at most. Many boys need something to create a new interest in school life.

The school has organized a debating society, to be known as Windham High School Lyceum. Meetings have been held every two weeks on Tuesday so far as was deemed expedient with public safety. I regret most sincerely, that our first open meeting is yet being delayed owing to the influenza about us. Because of the disease previously mentioned the work of the school has suffered immeasurably this year. I sincerely hope that no new cases may increase our difficulties in carrying the work to completion.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES P. STEWARD, JR.

REPORT OF THE TEACHER OF HOME ECONOMICS

---

To Charles E. Varney, Superintendent of Schools:

In compliance with your request, I am submitting a brief résumé of my work as teacher of Home Economics in the Windham High School.

When I first came to Windham High School last April, my work in the high school meant merely the completion of the work begun by my predecessor. This year it has meant more, for it seemed necessary that the course should be entirely changed in order to adapt it to this period of reconstruction. To establish this change, it was necessary to develop a greater spirit of co-operation among the girls, for in learning the wonderful profession of home making, we must first of all learn to work together. All must live in some sort of a home; every one finds his chief happiness there; character is developed there; and no great advance either spiritual or material is possible which does not begin with the home.

To be sure Home Economics is a broad subject and in order to carry out its different phases a special course alone should be offered to this subject. In our high school time is not given for this, but the course is classified under the two main subjects, Sewing and Cooking.

The first subject, Sewing, is an elective one, offered to both Freshman and Sophomore classes, each having two hours weekly for laboratory work and at least three hours each week devoted to outside work, for which credit is given. The course begins with the study of the elementary stitches and these are applied to a small sampler which is used for reference in all future work. Later these fundamentals are applied in a practical way, as in the making of holders, towels, caps, aprons, and simple underwear. Instruction is also given in crocheting, knitting, darning, patching, and the making of buttonholes; every stitch taken being applied to some practical article.

Along with each piece of work in Sewing, a study of textiles is pursued with the aim of acquainting the girls with the various fibers and their manufacture into cloth.

With the second year Sewing comes the introduction of the commercial pattern which follows a number of simple ones, drafted by each pupil in the previous year. With this pattern, comes the interesting article known as dress, which involves quite a bit of difficult dressmaking. This of course requires a study of harmony, simplicity, and unity, which is studied by each individual before making an outer garment. Other articles made throughout the year are kimonas, underwear, children's clothes and various pieces of fancy work, such as pillow tops, scarfs, and collar and cuff sets.

Note books are kept for the course throughout the two years. These contain notes on each article made, as well as designs and pattern drafts on the small scale.

The second subject, Cooking, is also an elective one, but it gives me the greatest satisfaction to state that fully two thirds of the girls are taking this subject, also the study previously mentioned.

The first year of cookery is offered to the Sophomore class and consists of all preliminary steps essential for future instruction, such as the study of the different food elements and their nutritive values. Household Administration and Household Management are also taught as far as possible. These subjects deal with the care of the house and its furnishings, marketing and Household Accounting, as well as the study of system in managing the home. This work is carried on by each class or organization which is so conducted that each pupil has a single duty, and in turn, one acting as housekeeper supervises all.

The second and third years of cooking perhaps prove more interesting than the first for it is with the second year class that the study of table service begins. In order to take up the various forms, meals are prepared and served under the different kinds of service, and each pupil has the opportunity to serve in the capacity of cook, waitress, host, and hostess. The girls plan the meals and estimate the cost which must not exceed a certain amount allowed them. A further practical knowledge of the food elements is gained in this year and many of the more difficult dishes are cooked and served.

For the last year or the completion of the subject Cookery a great number of fancy dishes are cooked. Menus and dietary sheets are discussed from both the economic and nutritive standpoint. The management and preparing of a meal at a certain time with reference to style, service, and value is also considered. This, with the adaptation of any meal to place and person completes the cooking course and an exhibition of various foods such as a perfect loaf of bread, a perfect pie or cake is required, along with a written examination.

We greatly appreciate the well-equipped kitchen in which we work together and I feel sure that each girl does her work with the interest that is going to help her become, industrious and idealistic and therefore the type of American girl we are anxious to produce in this period of reconstruction.

Of course many changes for the betterment of this department might enlarge the system on which the course is offered, but at the present time this course is ranking on a standard equal to any other course of its size in the state. This standard brings it to the Smith-Hughes bill which enables the girls to go from Windham High School to different trade schools without further preparation.

In conclusion I wish to invite the parents at any time to visit and see what we are doing in the Home Economics Department. Let us not forget the strong relationship between the home and this department. For on the breadth and strength of this base depends the height of the pinnacle and on the home foundation we rear the pinnacle of all that is good in state or individual.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS H. PORTER.

To the Citizens of Windham:

The School Board submits the following report:

The past year has been one of the most trying in the history of Windham. This condition was due to several reasons. First, the high cost of living and more attractive positions greatly depleted the supply of available teachers. This condition existed practically over the entire country. Second, the great amount of sickness among both scholars and teachers made it necessary to close all of the schools part of the time and some of them for varying periods throughout the entire school year. These conditions together with others, of minor importance, have made it necessary to secure many substitute teachers for varying terms and has also made it necessary to secure three new teachers during the year.

Our school superintendent, Mr. Charles Varney has worked faithfully and effectively to keep our schools open, whenever conditions would permit.

The question of repairs has not been a large item this year, because the board felt that under existing conditions, we should make only those that were absolutely necessary for the health and comfort of the scholars and teachers. It must not be lost sight of, however, that before long the question of repairs on a very extensive scale must be taken up, if we wish to make our schools a credit to the Town of Windham. This matter is so large that it cannot be gone into, in detail, in this report. It would seem, however, to be the part of wisdom to go very thoroughly into the question of just what the future school policy of the town is to be, before making a lot of expensive repairs on school houses that may be moved or abandoned, if a different school system is adopted. This matter should have the earnest consideration of every taxpayer and parent in the town, as it means a great deal to the rising generation, upon whom we depend for our future citizens.

The efficiency of our schools can be greatly helped by a closer co-operation of the parents with the teachers. This co-operation exists in a great majority of cases, but some few instances have occurred whereby the teachers have been greatly hindered in doing their best work. We do not believe that any of these conditions are caused by a deliberate intent to hinder our school work, but by the parents not having a full realization of the harm they were doing. Help your teachers to give your children the best education possible.

One way in which this can be done, is to make the home life of the teachers more pleasant. Considerable difficulty has been experienced in some districts in securing suitable boarding places for the teachers. No teacher can do good work, unless the hours out of school are pleasant. Every district, in which a teacher has to be boarded should get together as a community and arrange between themselves to provide a suitable boarding place for the teacher. This is not to be decided by the school committee or the superintendent, but is strictly up to the parents of the children.

It has been proposed to take advantage of funds made available by the Federal Government and by the State to introduce a course in agriculture into our High School. This we believe is something the town owes to the boys now growing up to manhood. This matter will be more fully discussed in another report.
